Who We Are

We are a full service investment dealer, and are registered in the Provinces of Ontario, British Columbia, Alberta, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. We are members of the following organizations: The Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada (IIROC) and The Canadian Investor Protection Fund (CIPF).

The Services and Products Brant Offers

Services

Brant provides advised and managed accounts to its retail clients.

Products

We offer the following investment products:

- Stocks, Rights, and Warrants
- GICs and Treasury Bills
- Bonds, Strip Bonds and Debentures
- Mutual Funds
- Derivatives

Your advisor can explain these investment products to you, as well as how they work, their risks and possible returns, and whether they are appropriate for you.

Risks

Volatility Risk

The market prices of the securities held in a portfolio can be volatile. On any given day the market price of an investment can advance or decline, sometimes materially. The time duration of such advances and declines can last for an extended period of time.

Liquidity Risk

You may not be able to sell your securities if there are not enough buyers in the market when you want to sell. This can happen even if the company whose securities you own is still profitable and viable.

Credit and Default Risk

The company or institution whose securities you own may reduce or stop dividend or interest payments. The market price of your security may also fall significantly as a result of this action. The government or company whose fixed income security you own may not be able to repay your principal at maturity.

Foreign Currency Risk

If you hold securities that are traded in a foreign currency, you will be paid in that currency when you sell. If the foreign currency has declined in value relative to the Canadian dollar you may suffer a loss when you exchange the currency in Canadian dollars. If Brant cannot hold an account in the foreign currency i.e. RRSP's, you will be forced to convert your investment to Canadian dollar at the time you buy and sell these securities.

The account(s) you have and how they operate

We offer our clients one or more of three basic account types and your Investment Advisor will work with you to determine the right account(s) and best services for you.

Advisory Account Commission Based

Your Investment Advisor is responsible for providing suitable and unbiased investment recommendations to you that meet the standard of care expected of a trained investment professional based on the KYC information that you provide to us. You (or your authorized representative) direct(s) all trading and is (are) responsible for all investment decisions in your account.

Advisory Account Fee Based

Your Investment Advisor is responsible for providing suitable and unbiased investment recommendations to you that meet the standard of care expected of a trained investment professional based on the KYC information that you provide to us. You (or your authorized representative) direct(s) all trading and is (are) responsible for all investment decisions in your account.

Managed Accounts

These are also referred to as “ non-advisor” or “ discretionary accounts” where your Investment Advisor independently exercises his or her authority (uses his or her discretion) to make investment decisions within the framework of your overall directions.

The fees you may be paying and how they are calculated

Your investment advisor before entering your order to buy or sell a security or investment product will disclose verbally to you all fees, charges, commissions, trailers, mark ups, mark downs associated with that investment product. Also we will provide you on account opening with our Fee schedule detailing our other fees and charges.

We offer you a choice of commission and fee based accounts:

Commission-based account

Brant charges a commission for each trade made in your account, based on either a flat dollar amount or a percentage of the value of the securities purchased or sold. The commission is negotiated between you and your investment advisor before the trade is executed in your account. The commission is also disclosed on your trade confirmation.

Fee-based account

Brant charges a fee that will be applied monthly or quarterly and charged against your account. It is calculated as a percentage of assets held in your account at month or quarter end.

Embedded Commissions and Fees

These fees and commissions do not appear on trade confirmations and they are the least transparent method of payment. The most common of these are Deferred Sales Commissions (“DSC”) on mutual funds and Annual Service Fees on mutual funds.

BSL may receive compensations from the buying or selling of mutual funds, limited partnership units, tax shelter securities, Canada and Provincial saving bonds commissions and trailers from these third parties.

Fees and commissions for mutual funds are fully disclosed to clients in each mutual fund prospectus and are further disclosed as part of each mutual fund's Management Expense Ratio ("MER"). A comparison of an F Series versus DSC Series for the same mutual fund quantifies the embedded amount of fees and commissions. Please ensure that you read the prospectus of the mutual fund that you are buying for all charges, commissions, fees, trailer fees, mutual fund manager fee and early redemption fees. If you need assistance in determining this amount, your Investment Advisor will be pleased to assist you.

In addition to DSC and Service Fees, New Issues and Principal Trades have embedded commissions. Brant does conduct Principal Trading as part of its business model. If such a trade were to occur, you will be notified via your trade confirmation with the message "PRINCIPAL". If such an event occurs, please speak with your Investment Advisor to determine the embedded cost. When you buy certain fixed income products, our Carrying Broker, NBCN Inc may act as principal. BSL does not share in any price mark-up charged by NBCN Inc. Embedded New Issue commissions are disclosed in each new issue prospectus. If you are unable to determine the amount of commission disclosed in the prospectus, please speak with your Investment Advisor.

Interest charge

If your accounts are in a debit position, we will deduct an interest charge from these account(s). The interest rates are available upon request.

Foreign Exchange

Exchange rates are available upon request.

How Brant assesses the suitability of your investments

We will assess whether a purchase or sale of a security is suitable for you prior to making a recommendation to, or accepting trade instructions from you. We will also assess the suitability upon the occurrence of the following:

- If securities are transferred or deposited into your account;
- If there is a change in your investment advisor; and,
- If there is a material change in your KYC information.

If during the suitability review we identify any concerns, we will discuss them with you and may be required by our regulators to document our discussion and, if we are strongly concerned with your decision to maintain unsuitable or proceed with investment, we may refuse to execute the transaction or to terminate our relationship.

In order to ensure that the holdings in your accounts are suitable for you as time passes, we will review the suitability of your investments in your accounts on an annual basis and when required to one of the reasons described above.

Brant will not review the investment held in your accounts in the event of a major market correction or any other factors not described above. However, your investment advisor is ready to discuss the effect of market fluctuations on your portfolio with you when you request.

Know Your Client (KYC) Information

Your KYC information is about you, your personal circumstances and current financial situation and includes, but not limited to your:

Age;

Annual Income: the approximate annual income of you and your spouse combined;

Net Worth: calculated as your fixed assets and liquid assets less liability;

Investment Objectives: – what you would like to achieve from your account; and,

Risk Tolerance: the degree to which you are willing to accept a fluctuation in value of your investments.

We will explain in more detail these concepts: Investment Knowledge/Experience, Investment Objectives, Investment Time Horizon and Risk Tolerance.

Investment Knowledge/Experience

Your investment advisor needs to understand your level of investment knowledge and experience in order for him to make suitable investment recommendations.

Investment knowledge and experience encompass an understanding of the characteristics of various types of securities, experience in investing in those securities, and experience holding investment in various market cycles. Your level of investment knowledge and experience may change over time.

Investment knowledge and experience levels are described as follows:

Sophisticated

Good

You have either traded in or have some knowledge of the basic characteristics of investment securities, as well as basic understanding of the degree of risk and reward inherent in these types of securities.

Limited

You have had some investment experience but may not have a full understanding of the basic characteristics of the various types of securities and the degree of risk associated with these securities.

Poor/none

You have very limited or no knowledge of the basic attributes of investment securities

Investment Objectives

Your investment objectives are subject to the risk you are able and willing to take.

Your investment objectives are to allocate the following (approximate) percentages of the assets held in my account(s) with our firm to:

Liquidity (M) the ability to quickly and easily convert to cash

Safety (X) you want to preserve the initial principal in the account

Income (B) you want to establish a source of periodic income

Growth (G) your investment objective is capital growth

Speculative (S) you want to invest in high risk securities and/ or trading strategies

You can chose to have specific investment objectives and risk tolerance for each account held at Brant.

Time horizon

The investment time horizon plays an important role in setting return objectives and defining liquidity constraints. Investment time horizon should be determined by considering when you will need to access some or all of the money in your accounts.

It should be indicated by one of the following ranges:

Year

0-1	Year
1-3	Years
3-5	Years
5-10	Years
10 +	Years

When Brant recommends an order to you or accepts an order from you or your legal representative, we will review each order or strategy in the context of your KYC described above.

Our understanding of your KYC is critical in helping us in recommending the proper assets allocation for your account(s).

The reports that help monitor your financial assets, their performance, and the fees & charges you may pay to Brant or to third parties

Confirmations

We will provide you with written trade confirmations of the details of every purchase and sale in your accounts by mail on the day the transactions are completed. Please review your trade confirmation as soon as you receive it.

Account statements

We will mail you a statement for the month of March, June, September and December and for any month in which a transaction has occurred in your account.

Every confirmation, statement or other communication sent by NBCN Inc and Brant shall be deemed to have been acknowledged as correct by you unless we have received written notice to the contrary within 25 days of month end.

Performance

You can request from your investment advisor a special performance report regarding your accounts held at Brant. This service is provided free of charge to you. This report will provide you with the position cost and account activity information and the percentage return of your account(s) for investment purchased after January 1, 2006.

Performance Benchmarks

Investment benchmarks are a standard against which the performance of a security, mutual fund or portfolio can be measured. Generally, broad market stock and bond indexes are used for this purpose. There are dozens of indexes that be used to gauge the performance of any given investment including the S&P/TSX Composite, the S&P 500 and the Dow Jones Industrial Average. When evaluating the performance of your investments, it is important to compare it against an appropriate benchmark. Given the importance of having the correct comparison and the diverse nature of our client portfolios, Brant will not include benchmarks on the monthly statements we send to our clients.

Future reporting enhancement

We regularly look at ways to improve the reporting and documents we provide to you to make them more informative, clearer and useful to you. As part of our service commitment, we will keep you posted on the timing of changes and how to interpret new report formats. Please speak with your investment advisor or visit us at www.brantsec.com for updated information.

Conflicts of Interest

General Description

Actual, potential and perceived conflicts of interest exist in almost all human interactions. Our relationship with you is no different. For instance, Brant Securities Limited (“BSL”) is a “for profit” business and has a responsibility to maximize economic returns for our shareholders. As well, BSL has various other stakeholders, all of whom rely on BSL to operate profitably in order to honor the interests of those stakeholders as expected under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) (“OBCA”) and pursuant to securities industry financial compliance regulations. We believe the best way to achieve our goals is to provide you with trusted advice and personalized financial solutions that help you achieve your financial goals. Our objective is to serve your financial goals, which is our best way to retain your continued patronage and, in turn encourage you to recommend our services and products to others.

We have prepared these summaries as part of our commitment to conflict of interest management practices, and also to help you better understand conflict issues that may arise. In addition to our objective to serve your financial goals in alignment with our business interests, Canada has comprehensive and extensive securities regulatory rules and regulations, many of which are directed at protecting client and investor interests, including dealing with conflicts of interest. We suggest that you refer to the websites and publications of the provincial securities commissions through the Canadian Securities Administrators (“CSA”) and Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada (“IIROC”) for more information on how Canadian securities regulations address conflicts of interest in order to safeguard the investing public.

Description of Member Firm

BSL is what is referred to as an “introducing broker” (“IB”) investment firm. Our client accounts are held in a custody arrangement with our “carrying broker” (“CB”), National Bank Correspondent Network (“NBCN”). All investments shown on our/your client statements are held by NBCN in segregation from the accounts of other brokerage firms. NBCN executes, settles, and reports all your trade activity to you and provides BSL (and consequentially to you) with a contractual indemnity assuring you that the investments shown on your statements are held by them as custodian. If, under any circumstance, any trade activity for your account is not reported on a trade confirmation and your monthly statement, immediately report such omission to BSL Head Office Compliance since such an event is a violation of our operating policies and procedures. We provide a broad range of service in corporate finance, investment management, and retail client services and products. We recognize that by definition some of these activities are more susceptible to conflicts of interest than many other commercial activities since we may periodically represent both sides of a transaction, namely, the buyer and the seller. As an IB we will have fewer cases of such conflicts of interest than an “integrated” firm. In fact, our business model choice to be an IB was significantly driven by our purposeful choice to reduce potential conflicts of interest with our retail investing clients. Nonetheless, conflicts of interest may still arise despite the intentions of our strategic planning to limit them.

You can learn more about our firm at www.brantsec.com

The general types of conflicts of interest which can arise are:

Conflicts of interest between you and us;
Conflicts of interest between you and our other clients; and,
Conflicts of interest between us and our related and associated companies.

Description of Role of an Investment Dealer

As an investment dealer, we are a financial intermediary. It is common practice in the brokerage industry that sometimes we may be the party on the other side of the transaction (referred to as a “principal” trade) where we own the security we sell to you, or buy the security from you for our own account. However, as an IB our business model is to act primarily as an agent. We simply facilitate transactions between you as our client and a third party on the other side of the transaction. Through such an “agency” trade we have no ownership interest in the security traded. This financial intermediary role for our retail clients is BSL’s primary line of business. To a lesser extent we offer corporate finance services to advise an issuer of securities on how to best raise funds by selling securities, while contemporaneously recommending that our clients buy those same securities. In such issuer advisory service arrangements, we offer our services to the issuer on a “best efforts basis” where we do not guarantee the issuer that we will sell any amount of such securities to our clients.

Management of Conflicts of Interest

In general, we deal with and manage relevant conflicts as follows:

Avoidance: This includes avoiding conflicts that are prohibited by law as well as conflicts that cannot effectively be addressed;

Control: We manage acceptable conflicts through means such as physically separating different business functions and restricting the internal exchange of information; and,

Disclosure: By providing you with information about conflicts, you are able to assess independently their significance when evaluating our recommendations and any actions you and we may agree to take.

The following information is intended to assist you in understanding and assessing material potential and actual conflicts of interest, including how we address them. This is an overview of a complex subject. Despite that, we believe the simplest control is the most effective — your continued satisfaction and patronage. If you ever have any questions or concerns, whether they involve conflicts of interest or any other matter, do not hesitate to say so and ask your Advisor for an explanation and more information. If you are not satisfied with the response you receive contact BSL Compliance at our Head Office.

General Information

We encourage you to be proactive and understand the issues relating to conflicts of interest. As previously recommended in this document, refer to the websites and publications of the provincial securities commissions through the Canadian Securities Administrators (CSA) and Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada (IIROC) for more information on how Canadian securities regulations address conflicts of interest to safeguard the investing public.

We document our core values, mission statement and standards, including general standards for how we deal with conflicts of interest in our internal policies and procedures. You should refer to the BSL Statement of Policies that appears on the New Account Application (“NAA”), which alternatively is often referred to as a New Client Application Form (“NCAF”); and our Statement of Policies which appears on our website at www.brantsec.com. You can also obtain a copy of any of these documents from your Advisor on request.

National Bank Financial Handling of Orders

There are a variety of marketplaces on which orders to trade listed securities can be placed and executed. National Bank Financial (NBF) provides this guidance to inform clients about the types of orders offered by NBF and how such orders will be handled. Since 2006 Alternative Trading Systems (ATS) have operated in Canada, providing an alternative marketplace for the trading of securities. Until the introduction of ATS, trading was solely on traditional exchanges, such as the Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX) and the TSX Venture Exchange (TSXV). A multiple market environment brings many benefits to investors such as the potential for improved pricing and liquidity as well as technological and market structure innovation. However it also brings a certain level of complexity and challenges that were not present in a single market environment. Under the Canadian regulation, NBF has an obligation to secure the best price and the best execution for its clients orders. To do so, NBF employs certain automated systems coupled with its understanding and expertise in trading and market structure to provide clients with an execution that meets their requirements.

Best Price

During regular market hours NBF achieves best price execution by using automated systems that will source the best price for the execution of a client order from the multiple Canadian marketplaces. All available markets are considered during the sourcing process including both visible markets and markets that offer no pre-trade transparency (Dark Pools).

Hours of Operation for Trading in Listed Canadian Securities

Hours of Operation

Most Exchanges and ATS's in Canada offer trading between the hours of 9:30 A.M and 4:00 P.M., Eastern Standard Time (EST), Monday through Friday, not including statutory Canadian holidays. Client orders placed during normal business hours will be transmitted to the NBF trading staff or trading systems and executed based on the instructions of the client and in accordance with the hours of operation on the market where the order is placed.

Clients who place orders with their Investment Advisors or through on-line systems when Canadian markets are closed should be aware that such orders will be held by NBF until the opening of trading the following business day and entered into a market place in the manner described in this document.

Extended Hours Trading – CN Member firms must call the NBCN Traders in Toronto

Some marketplaces provide additional order execution facilities outside of their normal trading hours. Clients should consult the web sites of the marketplace where they intend to trade or speak to their Investment Advisor if they wish to execute outside of normal business hours. Please be advised that price determination and liquidity may vary from market to market during these trading sessions.

Standard Handling of Orders

Marketplaces typically operate according to a schedule of trading sessions or market states. The following points are intended to clarify how NBF will process the described client orders during these sessions.

Pre Open Sessions – CN Member firms must call the NBCN Traders in Toronto

Clients who choose to participate in a pre-open session, either passively or actively, should be aware of the following:

A pre-open session is typically held where a market supports an opening auction;

Typically only a very small percentage of the daily trading volume of a security is executed in the pre-opening period. Duration orders such as GTC or GTD (see below) entered the day prior will roll into the pre-open session the next day and be available for trading;

Orders entered into pre-open sessions are held until the opening auction is executed. Buy and Sell order prices may overlap, which in-turn helps drive the price discovery of the opening auction; and,

In a multiple markets environment there is no standard opening price set across all markets which trade securities. Furthermore, not all market places open at the same time which may impact the price and volume executed for a client order entered in the pre-opening time period. Price discrepancies between markets may occur.

For these reasons automated order handling systems may not be relied on for best price or best execution of client orders. If a client chooses to enter an order in the pre-open session then, unless otherwise directed by the client NBF, will select a marketplace where, bases on its analysis and experience, it feels the client will secure the best execution. Duration orders that have rolled over from the night before into the Pre-open will be considered to be passively participating. If a client does not want to passively participate in the Pre-open session they should enter Day orders only or cancel unfilled duration orders at the end of each day.

Opening Auction – CN Member Firms must call the NBCN Traders in Toronto

For marketplaces that support an opening auction, e.g. TSX, TSXV, Alpha and Pure trade allocation and imbalance/price volatility management methodology may differ.

Markets that do not support an opening auction typically open “shotgun” style at a predetermined time. Please consult each specific marketplace for more information.

Post-open/Continuous Auction

Where markets support an opening auction, unfilled orders from the auction will rollover to the Post-open market session of the market that they were entered upon unless specified as Market on Open (MOO) orders. Market and Limit orders received by NBF during the Post-open session will be sent through an automated system that will route the order to the best market available at the time of receipt. Any unfilled portion of the order will be directed to a default booking market determined by NBF and remain on that market until the order is filled, modified, cancelled or expires

Order Execution

In a multiple marketplace environment, certain types of orders may have specific handling implications. Unless otherwise specified, orders will be handled in accordance with the description provided in this document.

Market Order

A market order is an order to buy or sell a security at whatever prices are available in a marketplace to help ensure a complete and full fill. NBF cautions clients from entering market orders given the different treatment that market orders receive in a multiple market environment. Please consult each specific marketplace for more information. NBF will route market orders through its automated system that examines each available marketplace and enters the order in the market that secures the best price.

Limit Order

A limit order is an order for a security at a specific minimum sale price or a maximum purchase price set by the client. If a limit order is not immediately executable, NBF will book limit orders to a market that in its judgment offers the best chance of execution. These orders will remain in that market until the order is filled, cancelled or expired.

In a multiple market environment, Clients should be aware that once their limit order is booked on a market place it is possible for the security to trade in other markets without the client's booked order participating.

Duration

Duration refers to the lifespan of the order within a trading system. Different markets may offer different duration values and options. For market specific details please refer to the web site of the market in questions. Below are a number of the most commonly used duration types.

Day Orders

A Day order instructions the receiving marketplace to automatically expire the order if it is not executed in the same trading day.

Good Till Cancel Orders – CN Member Firms - order entry systems GTC is for 56 days

Good Till Cancelled Orders (GTC) specify that the order remains active until the client cancels the order, or until the order exceeds its set duration and thus expires. NBF will only allow the entry of orders with a 30 calendar-day maximum GTC.

It is the client's responsibility to ensure they know what the date of expire will be and to contact their Investment Advisor on or before the order's expiry date should they will the order to be re-instated.

Good Till Date Orders

Good Till Date Orders have an order duration that specify that the order remains open until it is either filled or until it expires at a specified date.

Special Terms Orders (STO) – CN Member Firms must only use GTC

For NBF STO are orders with specific terms which cannot be traded in the regular marketplace. STO orders will only post to the special terms market on which they are entered. Please note that the use of special term orders can delay or decrease the chance of execution, as the receiving market must ensure the "special terms" of the order are satisfied prior to executing the order.

Market-on-Close Orders (MOC) – CN Member Firms must call the NBCN Traders in Toronto

Market on Close is an order designation which specifies that the entire order is to be executed at the official closing price of the marketplace it is entered upon. Not all markets support this order type in their system.

Disclosure of Marketplace

An order executed on more than one marketplace or alternative marketplaces will be reported to the client using a trade confirmation that will generally read ”Traded on Multiple Markets”

All orders executed on more than one marketplace or ATS in Canada will receive confirmation(s) listing the transactions on the different marketplaces.
